HOLINESS DESCENDS IN THE CHURCH FROM THE ALL HOLY GOD through Christ, His bishops and His priests, to the entire community which is the Mystical Body. But there is simultaneously an ascending movement of holiness from the Christian community to the all Holy God. Particularly is this true of vocations to the priesthood and the religious life...

Out of hundreds of possible ways of fostering vocations, prayer was the single one Our Lord specified...What prompted these words? Luke says that Christ spoke to them on the occasion of choosing seventy-two disciples (Luke 10:1). Matthew (9:36-38) sketches the background in more detail. It was after a long journey, he noted, and the Lord's heart was touched by compassion for the masses who hungered for knowledge of heaven but did not know where to search for what they lacked...

Not only those already in the Church but equally those outside it make Him yearn for laborers, lest the plentiful wheat rot in the fields.
His compassion for the multitude was twofold. Because they were hungry, He miraculously fed the five thousand. Because their souls suffered, sheep without a shepherd, He was moved with pity.

Every true priest has the same heart-tearing pity as he flies over a great city, Paris, New York or London. Down below he sees with Christ's eyes millions of souls unfed by the Eucharist, unhealed by penance, living in houses built on sand because they know not the Rock. He sees in them what Our Lord saw when He looked at the multitudes in danger of eternal loss! Here are countless acres ripe for harvesting, but how few the laborers to gather!...

What Our Lord asked us to pray for was laborers. He did not say: "My Father is Almighty: He can make the few accomplish much." He knew the extent of His Father's power, but He was also one with His Father in the divine plan to sanctify man with the aid of human means. In the Incarnation, His human nature was instrumentum conjunctum divinitatis. In the prolongation of His Incarnation, He uses us as instruments. Though He could reap the harvest without men, He will not. -from The Priest is Not His Own by Venerable Fulton J. Sheen
